

CRElaunch® FAQ

What does CRElaunch do?

CRElaunch is an online publishing tool that helps you market your commercial listings more effectively. You enter the relevant information on yourself and your properties and the system transforms it into beautiful flyers, emails and single property websites. You can also distribute the listing to a range of the most popular listing services, all at once with the click of a button.

What does beta mean?

The current version of CRElaunch is a beta version. This means that there may be some minor things that will need to be tweaked, and we may not have all our marketing links active as we are looking for feedback from our beta users, before we do the official launch. However, the basic publishing tools are all functional and we hope you give them a try.

How can I sign up?

Signing up for CRElaunch is quick and easy. On our main page, just click on the signup button and it will walk you through the steps. Need more help? Visit our “how to sign up” video at http://youtu.be/hviZwaF6Q\_c.

How can it be free?

Today more and more big software companies supply free software. Many people use the free offerings of Skype, Dropbox or Spotify. Like these companies, CRElaunch will eventually create revenue from selling additional products or services. But don't worry, the current program will continue to be free.

What do the brochures, emails and websites look like?

You get to choose between multiple layouts and customize your flier to match the colors of your brand.

Feedback

We hope that we have been able to answer your questions with this FAQ, if not, please send us an email with your question to crelaunchteam@gmail.com.

Learnings

We are currently building a range of tutorial videos to help you better use the tool. If you have any ideas for things we should take up in a tutorial, please let us know by emailing us at crelaunchteam@gmail.com.